WEDDINGS

BUDGEON-BRUBACHER

On Monday Nov. 11th, Thanksgiving Day, 6.30 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Brubacher, Didsbury, was the scene of a pretty wedding when their second daughter, Grace Marion was united in the bonds of holy wedlock to Mr. Ralph Budgeon, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Budgeon, Didsbury. Rev. H. E. Roppel of the Ev. Church performed the ceremony. The guests numbering about 15 consisted only of the immediate relatives.

The bride who was given away by her father, wore a gown of ivory silk crepe, carrying a sheaf of Columbia pink roses. She was attended by her sister, Ruth, who was gowned in primrose silk, carrying a bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums.

After the wedding luncheon the happy couple left by auto for Calgary and other points south for a short honeymoon after which they will take up residence near Edmonton in the village of Bon Accord where Mr. Budgeon is the manager of a lumber yard.

Congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Budgeon by a host of well wishing friends and acquaintances in Didsbury and surrounding district.

STEVENS-GAMBLE

On November 7, 1929, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira S. Gamble in Niche Valley, when their daughter, Grace Eleanor, became the bride of Mr. Robert G. Stevens of Didsbury. Only the immediate relatives were present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Traub of Didsbury.

which position he has held since 1925. He states his inability to devote his entire time to both business and politics as the reason for his withdrawal. Mr. McGillivray, however, will retain his seat in the legislature.

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD GREET DR. G. W. KERBY

Armistice Day and Thanksgiving were celebrated quietly on Monday in Didsbury. The day, however, ended with the annual splendid chicken supper served in the United Church by the Ladies Aid, followed by a short concert and address in the Opera House. The speaker of the occasion was Dr. G. W. Kerby, principal of Mount Royal College, Calgary.

Under the chairmanship of Rev. A. E. Hayes, minister of Knox Church, the program opened in the Opera House at 8:30 with a short sing song, followed by a vocal solo by Mr. H. Tonjum, entitled "The Trumpeter," with an encore, "The Nomad." Miss Elsie Steek, Olds, sang "The Hills of Claire." Miss Maurine Saugstad delighted her audience with a vocal solo, "In Flander's Fields." Mrs. J. Boorman accompanied at the piano.

In introducing the speaker of the evening the chairman called to mind the important part that Dr. Kerby is playing in the life of this province and the Dominion—a man who has given no little thought to the problems of Canada as they present themselves at this time—perplexing ones.

Dr. Kerby in approaching his subject "Canada and Canadianism," spoke of the boys and girls—the most important people of Canada. One of their great needs is encouragement; one of the essential requirements in the world today is encouragement and kindness.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway was being pushed westward there were those who ridiculed the idea. We know the result. Change and reconstruction are going on everywhere as never before. Communities feel it, nations are experiencing it. Out of this chaos a new star arises—Canada is no longer a colony. The events of the last 15 years are momentous. Canada has become a self-governing, self-determining nation. No nation can live unto itself anymore than the individual. Canada is taking her place among the nations of the world.

With Confederation in 1867 dawned a new national consciousness which followed the trials of the early French and English settlers in a new land. Thus was born a united Canada.

The ties of empire were strengthened in the Boer war in 1900 when Canada sent her sons to the assistance of the Mother land.

There was born in the hearts of the Canadian people after 1914 a new sense of world consciousness. Canada must be prepared to take her part in the affairs of the world—one of service, Christian brotherhood and love of freedom.

With a new Canada arises problems in racial difficulties. We have invited the newcomer here and we must give him a square deal as a man and a neighboring citizen. Everytime we fail to educate one of the newcomers we lose a Canadian citizen. We must help him to get better adjusted. We cannot but feel, continued Dr. Kerby, that these prairies are to be the home of millions—and we, Canada, the trustee of these newcomers. We all have our part to play. The hope is not in the gold mine, the natural resources, but in the quality of the nation's life. Nothing is worth making unless it makes the man.

A new sense of leadership, Dr. Kerby emphasized, is a national requirement—leadership in the church as well as the nation. We need clear-eyed and clear-visioned men and women with heart and brains.

We talk too much of east and west, capital and labor; each needs the other. There is no place for cleavage. There is no place in this

"What will Canada's contribution to world life be. What will the name Canada mean among the nations of the world in the great tomorrow at our very door," asked the speaker.

Canada is free from the national prejudices of the old world—without a frowning gun on her shores or borders—an example to the world.

On this day, one of Thanksgiving and Armistice, for the sake of peace—for the sake of the memory of those who never came back, let us LIVE for Canada. Let us make

FORMER RESIDENTS GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Riley Moon of Encinitas, California, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the family residence, Tuesday, October 22, 1929.

Mr. and Mrs. Moon were married October 22, 1879, at St. Anthony's Church, Canzenovia, Wisconsin, with the Rev. Father John Metzler officiating.

Nine children, 29 grandchildren and four great grandchildren are living to carry on the family name.

Mr. and Mrs. Moon came here from Didsbury, Alberta in 1923 and have made their home in the Green Valley district since that time.

Many local friends called Tuesday to pay their respects to Mr. and Mrs. Moon. A large number of beautiful gifts were received.

Old time friends of the Rugby district in Alberta sent a gift of $30 to be used in buying whatever the Moons most needed—Green Valley (Calif.) Items.

Excellent Costumes At Armistice Ball Friday

The masquerade ball held in the Opera House on Friday under the auspices of Mons Chapter I.O.D.E. evening was a huge success in every way, financially and otherwise.

Many and varied costumes were to be seen, some being very original. Mesdames Ranton and McCloy, dressed as Indians, received the prize for the best dressed couple. Mrs. G. Park, as Mary Queen of Scots, took the best dressed lady's prize. The prize for the best dressed gent was given to Mr. Walter Marbank of Olds, dressed as a cavalier. Best comic lady, Miss K. McNab; Best comic gent, Mr. A. A. Reeves; Best homemade costume, lady, Mrs. Dooley; Gent, Mr. J. Halton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Leisemer were visitors at Banff over the week end.

The National Value of Radio

When the automobile began coming into use 25 or 30 years ago, it was looked upon as a luxury for the rich, another means of providing for their entertainment and catering to their enjoyment, but not to be regarded as a new means of transportation for the great masses of the people. Yet within the short span of a quarter of a century the automobile has revolutionized our habits and modes of living, until today the family that does not own a car is the exception, rather than the rule. At first it was the common practice to criticize the farmer who bought a car; now it is recognized as a practical farm necessity. What was to be a plaything of the rich has become the most popular means of transportation, and is seriously challenging the railways as carriers of freight for the shorter hauls. The automobile, too, has altered all preconceived ideas in road-building and the value and necessity of good roads.

Within even more recent years has come the discovery of the radio. This, too, was accepted at first as more or less of a plaything, something to provide pleasure in the form of musical entertainment in the home. Its value in this respect, especially in rural homes, and in towns and villages not enjoying the advantages which the large cities possess in the way of concerts and theatres, was quickly appreciated. Then came the broadcasting of grain and other market quotations, weather forecasts, live news bulletins, and information of general interest and value to the rural dweller, hours and days in advance of the time he would otherwise receive the same. As a result, within recent years, radio has been installed in tens of thousands of homes.

In a very notable way the value and influence of the radio has been extended in the last two or three years through the linking up of a number of stations through which programmes of exceptional merit are made available to all parts of the continent, even the world. One such chain after another has been created, but beyond one or two attempts, — notably the Diamond Jubilee broadcast from Ottawa, in 1927, — Canadian listeners-in have not had the benefit of Dominion-wide Canadian programmes, but have had to depend largely on United States stations.

All this is now changed, and this year Canada is being favored with Dominion-wide broadcasts, sponsored by large Canadian corporations, equal in every respect to the best that is presented in the United States. These Canadian programmes are now available several nights every week and the finest symphony orchestras and artists of the large Eastern Canadian cities can be heard in Western Canada homes. Not only so, but some of the outstanding musicians of Great Britain are being brought to Canada to broadcast over these Canadian chains.

In the past when outstanding statesmen like Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald visited Canada, a comparative small number of people in Ottawa, Toronto or Montreal had the privilege of hearing him. On his recent visit to Ottawa, when he was the guest of the Government of Canada, at a late dinner, hundreds of thousands of Canadians from Halifax to Victoria, listened to his inspiring address in the Houses of Parliament. His plea for international goodwill and world peace, his insistence that these could only be achieved through a "will to peace" on the part of the people themselves, was listened to by hundreds of thousands, and received by them as a direct personal message, couched in homely language, and reinforced with all the sincerity of which Mr. MacDonald is capable. In other words, the Prime Minister of Great Britain was enabled to talk, not merely to President Hoover and Premier Mackenzie King, but to untold millions of people in the United States and Canada.

The national, yes, international, value of such addresses cannot be correctly estimated. The radio has become one of the most powerful factors in breaking down the suspicions, the ill-will, the fears, which exist and develop across international boundary lines. The fact that statesmen can thus appeal direct to the masses of the people, their own and those of other nations, must prove a tower of strength to the cause of true democracy and better world understanding.

Even so, the radio is still in its infancy. What wonders it will yet unfold to us in five, ten or twenty years, can hardly be imagined. It may bring improvements so vast, including television with the broadcasting of moving pictures and current happenings, and other developments as to make the radio achievements of today seem very crude indeed.

An Interesting Collection

Valuable Documents Presented To Library Of Toronto University

A collection of historic documents, illustrations, maps, autographs and letters has been presented to the library at the University of Toronto by Henry Sprout. It includes the first example of typography in Upper Canada, a speech made by Sir John Graves Simcoe, a proclamation made at Newark in 1795, and letters from Sir Isaac Brock, William Lyon Mackenzie, Bishop Strachan and many other Canadians famed in history.

Who Invented Eye-Glasses

No One Really Knows Where Credit Should Be Given

Many million persons use them, but do not know who invented them. Who did invent spectacles? This was one of the hardest questions which faced the recent London Congress of Spectacle Makers.

W. E. Hardy, one of the organizers of the congress, said that many years of study have been devoted trying to find out who first made eye-glasses.

"It is thought," he said, "that the credit may be given Roger Bacon, the English philosopher and scientist of the 14th century, but the situation has been complicated by the recent discovery of lenses in an old Carthaginian sarcophagus."

"There is no proof, however, that these lenses were used for defective sight; they may have been burning glasses. Spectacles came into general use in this country after the invention of printing."

"Theremin" Has Tonal Quality Similar To Cello Or Violin

Now you can be a musician without ability.

All that is necessary is to hum a tune, wave your hands over a gadget created by the Radio Corporation of America, and you get a fine musical effect.

The new device is called the "Theremin" and has a tonal quality similar to the cello or violin. It was displayed at opening of the radio world's fair recently, having a place in the exhibit because it is operated by two antennae.

LIFE WAS A BURDEN

Health Restored Through the Use Of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"I am writing to express my gratitude for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me," says Mrs. W. J. Dowling, Tottenham, Ont., and further says: "I was so badly run down that I felt that life was a burden. The doctor said my trouble was due to poor blood, but his medicine did not help me. My face was sallow, my lips bloodless and at the least exertion my heart would palpitate so violently that I would have to lie down. My feet and legs would swell and cramp, and all my friends thought I was in a decline. In this condition I was urged by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got three boxes, and to my delight, by the time I had used them I began to feel better. I got a further supply and kept on taking them. Daily I felt myself growing stronger. The color returned to my cheeks and lips and I felt a new interest in life. To sum up I can now say that I am feeling fine, for which I give the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I strongly recommend to all weak girls and women."

A useful book, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price 50c. Try them today.

Demonstrates New Form Of Rejuvenation Operation

American Surgeon May Throw Light On Eternal Quest For Youth

Man's eternal quest for youth held the attention of a group of surgeons attending the American College of Surgeons' clinic recently, after Dr. V. D. Lespenasse, Chicago, demonstrated a new form of rejuvenation operation. Although the college has not given official sanction to this type of surgery, the operation is causing comment.

Phlebopneumostomy, meaning "vein to vein" in the surgeon's vernacular, forms the basis of Dr. Lespenasse's new technique. The surgeon joins certain veins in the lower abdomen, causing the blood to follow a different course and thus, it is claimed, revitalizing the glands. The operation does not involve the transplanting of glands or the use of glandular extracts.

Dr. Lespenasse, in 1922, performed a rejuvenation upon Harold F. McCormick, prominent Chicagoan. The surgeon said that his method had passed the experimental stage and has been used on many patients.

Dr. William A. Osborne, Melbourne, Australia, dean of the faculty of medicine and chairman of the cancer research committee of the University of Melbourne, was amongst those awarded honorary fellowships.

Business Not So Good

Wheelbarrow manufacturers, meeting in Chicago the other day, admitted that their business had dwindled to little more than the export trade and decided to make only 22 models instead of the 168 varieties they had been producing. One trouble has been that the wheelbarrow has no sport model.

Made North-West Passage

Attempt Of Hudson's Bay Fur Trading Ships Was Successful

Three ships engaged in the fur trade and owned by the Hudson's Bay Company have between them forced the dreaded northwest passage, according to news reaching the Hudson's Bay Company offices at London, England. The ships are the "Bay of Chimo," "Fort James," and "Fort MacPherson. The "Bay of Chimo" left Vancouver last July and sailing through the dangerous Behring Strait, reached Point Barrow on July 24, and Cambridge Bay on South Victoria Island on August 25.

Last year the schooner Fort James, under the command of Captain Bush, sailed from Montreal and having wintered in the ice, began with the coming of spring a long fight to reach King William Land. The vessel was joined there by the "Fort MacPherson, which cruises within the Arctic Circle as a supply ship for trading posts and exploration purposes. The Fort MacPherson had sailed from Cambridge Bay, the farthest point reached by the "Bay of Chimo."

In this way, three vessels contracted to do what would have been impossible for one alone to accomplish. During the winter, locked in the ice, those aboard the "Fort James" endured great hardships and for most of the time were actually prisoners in the frozen waters. It is thought that the successful attempt to force this passage may mean that skins will be brought more quickly to Britain than in the past. An official of the Hudson's Bay Company declared that it remains to be seen whether such a journey is a commercial proposition. If this proves to be the case, the dangerous voyage from Vancouver through Behring Strait will be avoided.

High Grade Crop

Needless Pain!

Nowadays, people take Aspirin for many little aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain.

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works!

And Aspirin tablets are absolutely harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to an Aspirin tablet for relief.

Aspirin is always available, and it never fails to help. Familiarize yourself with its many uses, and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

Dominion In Very Forefront Of Nations Adopting Aeroplane For Purposes of Business and Industry

An Eastern paper remarks that Canadians east of the Great Lakes are too much inclined to believe that, at the present stage of the national development, they represent the extreme of progress and that the west's claim to distinction lies more in potentialities than in actual achievement. Yet in one great, and the latest, side of that development, the east is mainly responsible for the current thoroughly erroneous conception of Canada's proper place in the field of aviation. In fact, many benighted Easterners must have learned with unfeigned surprise that in the year 1928 more passengers were carried by airplane in Canada than was the case in the United States, and that this superiority also extended to the volume of freight transported. This rather astonishing piece of information was recently supplied by the New York Times, with the comment that, as the Dominion's flying record is largely established out of sight of reporters and camera men, only occasional flashes reveal the expansion that has placed Canada in the very forefront of the nations that are adapting the airplane to the purposes of business and industry.

It is surprising, remarks the Times, to learn that Canada last year carried 74,689 passengers by plane, and 2,404,632 pounds of freight, Eastern Canada however, contributing only a comparatively minor proportion to this business of the airways. The only regular passenger route in the East is between Montreal and Albany, New York, though air-mail routes are more numerous and are steadily being extended to link up isolated and outlying points with civilization. But Easterners are not, generally speaking, developing air-mindedness, most of the 74,689 passengers mentioned by the Times being carried in areas where railways are not available and where the only method of transportation is a dog team in winter or a canoe in summer.

On the other hand, the New York paper notes, miners and prospectors have been quick to recognize the advantages of air-flight, and in northern Ontario and northern Manitoba freely use the airplane, thus saving weeks, or even months, when journeying to remote or inaccessible regions. Governments, too, are finding the airplane an invaluable assistant in the survey and plotting of the bleak and inhospitable region of the sub-Arctic, and before long few parts of the country will remain that have not, at least, been observed. Forest patrolling is now, of course, an old story, but the airplane as a means of fire protection and fire prevention is each year becoming of greater importance. In short, the development of the northern belt of the Dominion has been immensely expedited by the utilization of airplanes. One Winnipeg company is cited as having last year carried over 10,000 passengers, accelerating incalculably the exploring of mineral areas and knowledge of topographical conditions.

Christmas Toy Repair Shops For Sending Out Toys To the Children Of New Settlers

Last Christmas the Boy Scouts of Canada had the rare privilege of playing Santa Claus to many thousands of children, little New Canadians. In Saskatchewan, toy shops were opened in nine centres where toys were repaired and distributed by the Scout Association to some thousands of children both of new settlers and of veterans.

Something of what this meant in happiness to the children themselves, and to their parents, was suggested by many touchingly appreciative letters. In many cases the package, with something for each child, came almost literally "out of the sky," like old Saint Nick himself, and turned a day of dreaded loneliness—with nothing for the kiddies—into a day of laughter and happiness.

This year, in addition to the remembrance of local needy children, it is hoped to again make happy at least 5,000 New Canadian kiddies on the farms. Already a list of 800 new arrivals this year on prairie farms, has been received.

Some difficulty has been experienced in regard to covering the cost of mailing the parcels. The following device has been suggested,—that parcels for certain families be made up and addressed with the amount of postage required marked, and displayed in a store window along with a toy display, and a placard reading:

Santa Claus' Reindeer Need Help

Step inside and help Santa Claus by paying the postage on a parcel going to the kiddies of a family of new settlers spending their first Christmas on a Canadian farm in the west. The parcels were prepared by the Boy Scouts.

Makes Success As Farmer

Wins Cup For Best Farm In Province Of Alberta

The farm of Gustav Elgert, of Wetaskiwin, that won the trophy offered by the Edmonton Board of Trade, for the best field of wheat in the northern half of the province, as well as the cup donated by the Alberta Government for the best farm in Alberta, has yielded 46 bushels to the acre, on a 100 acre field, and graded No. 1 hard. The seed used had been developed by Dr. Seager Wheeler, of Rosthern, Sask. Elgert is another farmer who came to Canada with no capital at all and has made a striking success as a farmer.

A Growing Industry

Egg Production In Canada Shows Consistent Increase

Illuminating and instructive in various ways is a comparison of the quantity and value of the farm eggs produced in Canada last calendar year and the corresponding figure for each of the seven years preceding. The result reveals clearly the consistent and unbroken progress made by the egg industry in the Dominion during that period. Intelligent and unremitting attention to improving the laying ability of the hen has brought a constant increase in the average production per unit until today it is nearly 22 per cent. greater than the average eight years ago. Within that period the number of egg-producing hens on Canadian farms increased by over 32 per cent., the number of eggs by approximately 60 per cent., and their total value by well over 100 per cent.

The progress made recently in egg production has been very considerable. Imports of shell eggs in 1928 were about the equal of exports, the Dominion for the first time over a considerable span producing sufficient eggs to meet the country's domestic requirements. Consumption of eggs in Canada has increased very largely, the Dominion being the heaviest egg consumer per capita in the world. But production is rapidly coming to take care of this situation, and the outlook in this regard is distinctly bright. In the early months of 1929 imports of eggs into Canada have been, on the whole, smaller than in the corresponding months of 1928, though it is to be noted also that exports are also correspondingly smaller.

Government Sheep Moved

Two Thousand Brought To Lethbridge From Crow's Nest Mountain

The loading of nearly 2,000 sheep, which during the summer have been pastured in the vicinity of Crow's Nest mountain, was completed lately, and they were transported from Sentinel to Lethbridge Experimental Farm via C.P.R. Arthur Newman, assistant superintendent in charge of livestock, stated that the sheep have thrived on the splendid grazing which the mountain ranges afford. Geo. Walker, of Lethbridge, was in charge of the big flock during the summer, and was assisted by H. M. Dingwall.

Bring Out British Boys

Saskatchewan Government Has Decided To Increase Quota Next Year

Saskatchewan has decided to increase its quota of British boys under the Government aid scheme by which the Imperial, Federal and Provincial Governments, each bear one-third of the cost, according to Hon. J. F. Bryant, who pointed out that during the past year 100 boys have been absorbed under that scheme and that the coming year the quota would be doubled.

A necklace of bear claws, believed to have been worn by Chief Sitting Bull, has been received by the San Diego Museum.

At this season of the year when thoughts are turning to Christmas and the exchanging of presents it would be well for the citizens of Alberta to remember the merchants of the province are co-operating in stocking and displaying Alberta-made products.

How can we expect the retailer to do his part if the consumers do not take the step in the right direction and make their purchases wherever possible of the products of Alberta factories.

The manufacturers of the Province are prepared to stand by the quality of their products and only ask for business on the merits of their goods. They make as good, if not better, products as are produced elsewhere.

The farmers of the district know that a large part of their revenue comes from the city and it is only an act of co-operation for them to buy Alberta Made Goods in return. Money spent in our own province comes back to us again but money spent for goods produced outside of the province goes away and keeps on travelling.

It is only by working in harmony that the greatest good can be accomplished. Ask your storekeeper to show you some of the products of Alberta's factories and compare the prices and values with other manufactures. Let's all work to gether this Christmas and support Alberta Made Products.

GOING NOWHERE LEISURELY

Maximum speeds in traffic are fixed by law. There is need also for fixing minimum speeds. The slow-moving road hog is a menace to safety, his own included.

You know the type. He is driving nowhere in particular and taking his time to it. Instead of keeping near the edge where slow traffic belongs he stays out near the middle of the road and no amount of persuasion from behind makes even a wrinkle on his dull brain.

If the highway has several lanes running in each direction this sloth at the wheel takes the lane supposedly reserved for those who know they are going somewhere. That is bad enough; he becomes a far greater nuisance, however, on roads only two cars wide. Then he flourishes in all his ingloriousness.

The only way to pass him is to swing into the lane of traffic going in the opposite direction; and that is difficult when traffic is heavy. A driver may have to wait for a mile or several before the opportunity comes to speed by, and by that time there are half a hundred fretting motorists bottled up behind the laggard cursing the fate that set him behind a wheel.

Most drivers, of course, realize that going too slow is about as dangerous and far more exasperating to others than driving too fast. Of road hogs there are several breeds, but the one that gets the blue ribbon for piggishness is the one represented by the man or woman who goes to sleep on the highway and forgets he has an accelerator. He should confine his driving to the wood lot.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE SAYING

The Alberta Government has just issued the public accounts for the year ending March 31 last. A surplus of $1,817,871 is confirmed.

The Provincial Treasurer takes pride in his series of mounting surpluses, but it may be said that if that is the Government finds nearly two million dollars in its hands at the end of the fiscal year it is apparent that it has collected that much more out of the people than was actually required or else it has not been spending as much on roads and other public purposes as public opinion demands. The government outlay on highway construction, for instance, has not kept pace with the imperative demand for more and better roads.

On the other hand, it is equally clear that if the Government is raising so much more revenue than it needs the taxpayers of the province are entitled to look for a measure of relief from the taxation burden. It is unnecessary to collect taxes merely to permit a Government to brag about big surpluses. The huge total of $15,256,083 was collected from a population of not more than 600,000. It is a heavy taxation burden, and, according to the Government's own figures, might have been reduced by nearly two million in the past fiscal year without going behind. — Calgary Herald.

What People Are Saying

That Dr. G. W. Kerby's address on Canada and Canadianism was one of the most inspiring and thought provoking discourses ever heard in Didsbury.

That though the gathering in the Opera House on Monday evening was not a good representation of Didsbury's populace, those present truly made it up in their enthusiasm and applause. "It was great," was heard on every side.

Riding on the Roof of the Rockies

Among the most spectacular of the Trail Rides ever attempted in the Canadian Rockies will be the one proposed to start August 8 and lasting 18 days, to take in a long distance ride to the Columbia Icefield from Lake Louise. This icefield is the largest body of glacial ice left on the North American continent covering 150 square miles and surrounded by peaks from ten to twelve thousand feet in height. The ride will be from Lake Louise up the Bow Valley to Bow Lake, over Bow Pass and by the Mistaya Valley past Waterfall Lakes to the North Saskatchewan River, then up the Alexandra River Valley to Castleguard and the Columbia Icefields. Only Trail Riders holding at least the silver button, emblematic of completion of 100 miles of trail riding, will be permitted to join the expedition, since all taking part must satisfy the committee that they will not prove a burden to the rest of the party.

For less experienced Trail Riders, or those who cannot spare the time, there will be a four-day ride starting from Banff August 1 and ending at Castle Mountain Bungalow Camp. It will take in the Egypt Lake district, which will be accessible for the first time this summer, so that those participating in this ride may regard themselves as pioneers. Beautiful Shadow Lake under Mount Ball will be the camp site of the riders on the second day out and, in all, seven glacier-fed lakes will be on the route of the trail.

British Industries Fair

Canada To Be Well Represented At Fair To Be Held February 17th To 28th

The Deputy British Trade Commissioner announces that the sixteenth annual British Industries Fair will be held next year from February 17th to 28th, inclusive, at London and Birmingham, England. The two sections are complementary to one another, the whole forming the British Industries Fair.

The London section of the fair, which is organized by the British Government Department of Overseas Trade, will be held for the first time in its new home at Olympia. Canadian buyers who have visited the fair in the past will remember that for the last few years it has been held at the White City, in London. Owing to the growth of the fair it has been found that the White City buildings are not now suitable. It has therefore been decided to move the fair to Olympia, which is being especially enlarged for the purpose by the addition of a four-story building. The new building will not actually be completed until the 1931 fair, but two floors, in addition to the existing building, will be ready for occupation by February next. By means of bridging the galleries and other reconstruction work, there will be ready for the forthcoming fair a large two-story building which is believed to be the first of its kind and size in the United Kingdom. Up to the 12th of August last, 800 United Kingdom manufacturers had applied for space at Olympia. Although no definite number is available, it is believed that the applications for space at Birmingham have been made by approximately 500 firms.

The Empire Marketing Board, which is organized under the auspices of His Majesty's Government, will again stage a representative exhibit of food products of the Mother Country, the Dominion and Colonies, and also of the raw materials of the Empire. This exhibit will be given a prominent position on the ground floor of the existing main hall at Olympia. In addition to this there will be a separate exhibit by the Canadian Government, and it is anticipated there will be a representative Canadian Manufacturers' section.

Many Canadian buyers are expected to visit this great national fair. The most prominent British firms in all lines of manufacture will be exhibitors. The exhibits are grouped by trades, so that a buyer can go to any section in which he is interested and inspect it without wandering over the whole of the fair building to discover any particular article or firm.

Canadian buyers who visit the fair each year have on numerous occasions drawn attention to the time which they have saved by a visit to the fair. By such a visit they avoid the necessity of having to travel over the United Kingdom to purchase from the various manufacturers in whose goods they are interested. The schedule of exhibits in both the London and Birmingham sections cover practically every article of United Kingdom manufacture. Full information can be obtained from the British Trade Commissioner, 703, Royal Bank Building, Winnipeg, who will be glad to issue invitations on behalf of the British Government to business men who contemplate making the trip.

Has Furthered Understanding

Extra Rich Milk Is Used In Famous Bohemian Cake

Practical foreign recipes are always of interest to the housewife anxious to vary the menu. This molasses cake is decidedly different, and yet is easily made if you have extra rich milk on hand. Borden's St. Charles is particularly satisfactory, because it is twice as rich as ordinary milk, taking the place of cream in a cake of this kind. It never varies in quality; consequently you can count on uniform results in every kind of cooking.

Bohemian Molasses Cake

- 1/2 cup butter.
- 2 cups sugar.
- 1 cup molasses.
- 1/2 cup black coffee.
- 2 eggs.
- 1 teaspoon baking soda.
- 1/4 cup Borden's St. Charles Milk.
- 2 cups flour.
- 1 teaspoon ginger.
- Cloves.
- Cinnamon.
- Allspice.
- 1/2 lb. raisins.

Cream together half a cup of butter, a cup of sugar, a cup of molasses, half a cup of black coffee, two yolks of eggs, and a teaspoon of baking soda, dissolved in one-half cup St. Charles Evaporated Milk. Then add two cups of flour, a teaspoon of ginger, a dash of cloves, cinnamon and allspice, also half a pound of raisins, if desired. Bake rather slowly.

When done and cool, cover with icing as follows: Beat the two whites, pour into them, beating constantly, syrup made by boiling a cup of sugar with a fourth of a cup of Borden's St. Charles Milk.

'Plane Crossing Channel Runs Into Waterspout

Passengers Terrified But Pilot Managed To Keep Clear

Halfway across the English Channel recently, the pilot of a French passenger aeroplane saw he was heading directly into a water spout. He was flying low beneath storm clouds in a half gale of wind, when suddenly a column of sea, lashed by a whirlwind leaped upward almost beyond the cone of a spinning black cloud which formed a funnel from the lowering sky.

By deft movements of the controls the pilot managed to keep the aeroplane clear of the vortex, but not before the machine had been thrown about in all directions and passengers terrified.

The machine left Paris piloted by M. Codos. Seven of the passengers were women. Owing to low clouds it flew over the Channel at a height of only 500 feet, but even then was continually passing through them.

When in mid-Channel passengers saw only 200 yards away, a great circle of sea beaten up into white foam and revolving at high speed. In the middle the surging waves were rising toward a funnel of dense black clouds, spinning fiercely and falling toward the sea. As soon as the pilot saw the waterspout, he wrenched the machine around. He had a tremendous task to keep it under control, as he was actually at the edge of the disturbance. He got the machine safely away, but the travellers were violently thrown about and everybody was ill.

As soon as the pilot cleared the disturbance he sent radio telephone messages warning shipping and other aircraft of the danger.

Taking No Chances

Scotch Servant Would Not Risk Loss Of Silverware

Many amusing anecdotes are to be found about the "canniness" of the Scot, and this tale is related concerning the experience of a certain Mrs. Murray. "Mrs. Murray, of Abercainey had been amongst the guests, and at dinner one of the family noticed she was looking for the proper spoon to help herself with salt. The old servant, Thomas, was appealed to, that the want might be supplied. He did not notice the appeal. It was repeated in a more peremptory manner: "Thomas, Mrs. Murray has not a salt spoon," to which he replied most emphatically, "Last time Mrs. Murray dined here we lost a salt spoon."

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, take a little Bisurated Magnesia after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

MADE IN ENGLAND

The Improved Glass Substitute

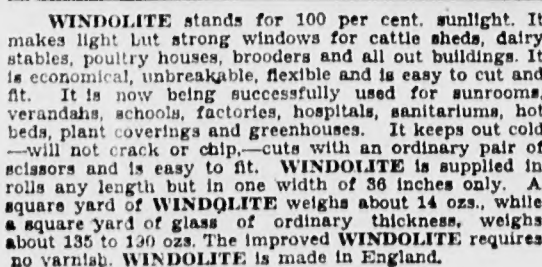

COMES WITH A MESSAGE OF HEALTH

THE sun is the all-powerful life producer. Nature's universal disinfectant and germ destroyer, as well as stimulant and tonic. WINDOLITE is the sun's most important ally.

Medical research has definitely proved that from the point of view of Health and Hygiene, the most effective among the sun's rays are the Ultra-Violet rays, which possess the greatest power for the prevention and cure of disease and debility.

Science has further established that ordinary window glass does not allow the passage of Ultra-Violet rays, so that by using glass we are artificially excluding these vital health-giving rays. Therefore, the invention of WINDOLITE has completely satisfied the long-felt want. Exhaustive experiments have conclusively proved that it is a most effective substitute for glass, that it freely admits the Ultra-Violet rays, and that its use has a most beneficial effect on the growth and development of plants and chickens and on the well-being of cattle, enabled for the first time to have healthy light instead of darkness in their sheds.

Indeed, the discovery of WINDOLITE has during the last six years completely revolutionized gardening, given a new stimulus to poultry breeding, increasing the egg-laying capacity and fertility of chickens, has greatly improved the health of cattle and is now being used in domestic and household requirements.

WINDOLITE stands for 100 per cent. sunlight. It makes light but strong windows for cattle sheds, dairy stables, poultry houses, brooders and all out buildings. It is economical, unbreakable, flexible and is easy to cut and fit. It is now being successfully used for sunrooms, verandahs, schools, factories, hospitals, sanitariums, hot beds, plant coverings and greenhouses. It keeps out cold—will not crack or chip—cuts with an ordinary pair of scissors and is easy to fit. WINDOLITE is supplied in rolls any length but in one width of 36 inches only. A square yard of WINDOLITE weighs about 14 ozs., while a square yard of glass of ordinary thickness, weighs about 135 to 140 ozs. The improved WINDOLITE requires no varnish. WINDOLITE is made in England.

The Singing Fool

By HUBERT DAIL

Copyright, 1928, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing waiter at Blackie Joe's New York night club wins fame as a composer of popular songs. He marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, and makes her famous too. Molly and Al have a baby, Junior, whom Al adores. When Junior is about two years old Molly elopes with John Perry, Al's best friend, taking the baby. For a week there is no trace of them. Al, completely broken by the blow, visits his partner Billy Cline, at the Club Bombo, and declares he must sell out. He is through with Broadway. Just then Al learns from a newspaper article that Molly is at a New York hotel, preparing to sail for France that afternoon. He rushes to the phone.

CHAPTER XIX.

"No," said Molly to the maid, "you go on packing—I'll answer."

She picked up the receiver to hear Al's voice.

"Molly, is this you? Is it true you're sailing today?"

Molly's eyes grew cold as ice as a look of intense irritation crossed her face. She turned to Perry, putting her hand over the transmitter, and whispered, "It's Al."

Perry started, then Molly answered into the phone.

"Yes, it's true. I decided to sail today."

The full force of her cold determination was conveyed to Al in those words. But his voice came vibrating back against her ear.

"Please, Molly, you must let me see Junior before he goes. That's all I ask—you won't refuse that!"

Again Molly signaled quickly to Perry, pointing to Junior. The racketeer jumped up—so Al was trying to spoil their game! Perry made a quick gesture of disapproval and Molly turned back to the phone.

"There's hardly time," she said. "We're leaving shortly."

Then it seemed to her that Al's voice hardened a little, too.

"The boat sails at six Molly—that gives you time. Remember you've taken Junior from me—and you know what he means to me! He's the only thing I have left to live for. I'll be with him only a few moments—you must grant me that!"

Al waited in an agony of suspense, while Molly did some quick thinking. She knew Al could make trouble for her if he wanted to do it. She didn't think he would, but if she refused this last request he might suddenly turn ugly toward her. She decided to conciliate him. Besides, for a wonder, she suddenly felt just a trifle sorry for him. After all, he had been an awfully good sport during the three years of their marriage, and he did adore Junior.

Then she became aware of Perry's agitated figure; he was pacing up and down in front of her, gesticulating for her to refuse. But she turned to him and said in low firm tones.

"We must do this for him, John. It won't hurt us. And he's been so decent to me."

Perry made a reluctant gesture of acquiescence.

"Do as you like. But you can't afford to have him come here."

"No, of course not." She turned back to the phone. "I'll have Junior at the 96th Street entrance to the Park in half an hour."

As Al heard her crisp good-by his face was illuminated with joy at the prospect of seeing his son. It would only be a few moments, but it was something—to hold Junior close once more and hear his baby voice. Al glanced at his watch, then remembered Billy Cline, who was waiting mutely nearby.

"She consents, Billy! I'm to see Junior in half an hour! Now I must hurry along."

Cline wrung his hand and Al picked up his hat and coat.

"We'll go over these accounts later," called Cline as Al hurried away, but Al gave only a hurried wave of the hand in agreement. His thoughts were concentrated on the meeting with his son.

Cline looked after him, shaking his head sadly. It seemed to him that the downfall and complete collapse of Al Stone was imminent all because of Molly.

"If I were in Al's place," thought Billy, "I'd certainly try to nab that woman at the boat and get the child back. But no, he won't do it. He thinks how it might put a stigma on the baby. And I think he loves Molly too much, even now, to do it."

The night club owner gave a sigh, sat down at his desk, and began to go over the accounts of the Club Bombo.

Al boarded a taxi and reached the 96th Street entrance ten minutes later. He still had a twenty minute wait, but he wanted to be on the spot ahead of time for this, the most important appointment of his life. He paced nervously up and down, peering at every limousine that passed. Then, as so often happens, when there is so much at stake, imaginative and imaginary fears began to possess him.

What if Molly had lied to him, what if she were stringing him along and even now was hurrying with Junior toward the boat? But just when this fear had become so intense that he thought he couldn't endure it a moment longer, Molly's blue Rolls-Royce approached, came to a stop and the door swung open. Molly wasn't in it; a strange nursemaid stepped out, leading Junior by the hand.

Al rushed forward to clasp his boy in his arms.

As Junior saw Al approaching his little arms opened wide. Then he felt himself caught and lifted high, with his face against his daddy's cheek. Why this was just like home, when his daddy came in at dinner time, to rush into the nursery first thing and embrace him. Yet it was different, in a way, and the sensitive child felt it. His daddy was silent for a long moment as he pressed Junior close to him.

The little boy thought he was crying. . . . But no, Al held him at arm's length and whispered, with radiant face:

"It's wonderful to see you again. Did you miss daddy, Junior?"

Junior nodded. "Awful much. I asked mummy were you was. I asked her all the time."

Again the quick clasping of the little warm body in its heavy blue overcoat. Then Al carried Junior toward one of the benches that stood by the park entrance.

"Let's sit down here, Junior. We can be all alone."

Junior sat on Al's lap, looking up into his face. During these few precious moments Al wanted his child all to himself, out of earshot of the nursemaid. There she was pacing up and down beside the car, keeping a sharp eye on Junior and his father.

"She's been told to watch me — told I might steal him," thought Al.

How pink Junior's cheeks were and how lovely his curls, escaping in profusion from under his funny little Breton cap. He sat with his tiny, sturdy legs, in leather leggings, spread far apart, studying his father's expression, as if seeking the answer to some question that was bothering his baby mind. Yes, there was something about Junior, a sudden gravity, that convinced Al he knew vaguely that all was not well with the Stone family. It was just a feeling with Junior and he had no words that really expressed it, but he said soberly:

"Daddy, I've missed you lots."

"Have you, Junior?"

"Yes, I have. I wisht you was goin' wiv mummy and me."

Al turned his face away quickly, as if he were studying intently something far down the street. He didn't want Junior to see his expression of extreme unhappiness, and for a moment he could not speak. But as he gained control of himself he said:

"Do you, Junior? So do I. You can't know how much daddy longs to go with you."

"Why can't you go, then?"

Again the sudden staring down the street and the quick return of daddy's warm, loving eyes.

"Because, Junior — well, it's something you wouldn't understand. You'll know some day. . . . But you'll never forget daddy, will you? You'll never forget that daddy loves you every moment and thinks of you and sings to you."

"Never," said Junior, with the certitude of a grown person and a solemn wag of his head. Then he asked:

"Do you feel bad, daddy?"

Al stiffened his quivering lip and managed to summon a smile.

Sour Stomach

Just a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. That is an alkali, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard antacid for 50 years among physicians everywhere. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes.

Don't depend on crude methods. Employ the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Anglicising Foreign Names

Many Lose Their Dignity and Become Quite Commonplace.

Foreign names of musicians and composers always seem to be somewhat imposing and sonorous. When they are Anglicised they appear to lose much of their dignity, and become quite commonplace. Giuseppe Verdi becomes in English, Joseph Green, Wagner becomes Cartwright, Bach becomes Brook, and Weber, Weaver. Some names are less common when translated, and while Strauss, or Straus, is one of the commonest names in Germany, its translation is Nosegay, which is quite unknown here. Handel means trade or commerce; Haydn, heather; and Himmel, heaven; Loewe is lion; Cherubini, a little cherub; Rossini, the small red one; Schumann, shoe man, presumably the cobbler; Schonberg, beautiful mountain; Tito Mattel was simply Timothy Matthews, or he would have been so had he been an Englishman with an English name.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next cold and wet, and unless the mother is on her guard, the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

British Census Takers Do Work Thoroughly

Chief Appointed To See That No One Escapes Count

Giant maps are now being prepared for the use of census takers in England and Wales, in 1931. These maps show every street and alley and court in the land and the whole country is split up into 50 areas. A census chief is appointed to each section, and has the responsibility of seeing that nobody escapes the count.

Even the gypsies and the vagrants on the road are "trapped" on census night by policemen specially detailed. With 40,000,000 persons due to be counted, the census form goes into every house, every workhouse, every hospital, every prison and every casual ward and lodging house.

Important information will be extracted from the figures which will shed a light on the constantly changing conditions of the lives and habits of the nation.

Turner Valley Oil Wells

There about 90 separate oil well operations under way in the Turner Valley in addition to 29 producing wells, the latter having a monthly output of 122,000 barrels, valued at in excess of $5,000,000 per year. The monthly payroll of the 1,110 men employed runs to $250,000.

Giant British Airship

Trials Of the R-101 Said To Be Most Successful

Great Britain's giant new dirigible R-101, largest in the world, has been granted her "air worthiness" certificate after her successful 300-mile flight.

The anxiety which was felt in many quarters about her navigability, before she went into the air, is said now to be entirely dispelled. The experiments made in her construction are considered a success.

It was stated that the initial trip was probably the most economical ever made by a dirigible so far as gas is concerned.

Experts looked forward to flights soon of the R-100, sister ship, and comparable to the R-101 in size and probable performance.

When Caesar was a boy

THE Forum was the common market-place for all of ancient Rome. Today a few crumbling columns stand as mute reminders of its former grandeur.

In our present day complex civilization, market places have become scattered. It is no longer possible to visit them all in a morning—or even in a day.

Advertising, instead, has become the convenient Forum of modern buyers and sellers. If you are considering the purchase of a new car, you scrutinize the automobile advertising. Or if it's a razor or a talking machine that you want, you turn again to the advertising. Here is the national market-place for merchandise.

Furthermore, as you leaf over those same pages of products, your mind is storing away for tomorrow a compact and valuable fund of information. Instinctively, you will remember those facts when you make your future purchases. Increase your store of knowledge by reading the advertisements regularly.

RUGBY NOTES

The November meeting of the W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Krebs, with an attendance of 17 members and 11 visitors. After a rather lengthy business session the subject for the afternoon, namely legislation, was taken up by Mrs. Hosegood. Following this Mrs. O. Swingle, one of our members, who is leaving the district, was made the recipient of a gift from her fellow members as a mark of their esteem and regret at her departure. The new bride of our W.I. was also presented with a small token of our good wishes for her future happiness. The meeting closed in the usual manner and lunch was served. The December meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. W. Swingle. As this is the yearly business meeting a full attendance is asked for.

A visitors day was held at Rugby school on Nov. 6. Teacher and pupils are to be congratulated on the excellent program which was given for the Junior Red Cross. The president, Arnold Russel made a most efficient chairman and each of the older pupils gave short talks on the terrible effects of the war. Recitations were given, Thanksgiving hymns were sung, and a peace pageant was also presented, the children each representing one of the countries belonging to the League of Nations. At the conclusion the secretary, Walter Cook, asked all present to give one cent for each letter of their name for the Junior Red Cross, and in this manner the sum of $5 was collected by the treasurer, Albert Krebs.

A twenty dollar gold piece that was insured for a thousand dollars and that sold for twelve hundred, was recently shipped by Canadian Pacific Express. The coin was one of seven struck by the government in the Cariboo district at the time of the gold rush, it being thought that a mint could best be operated on the spot. This proved uneconomical, however, and after seven pieces had been issued, the project was abandoned. The coin in question was shipped by the S.S. Montclair to a numismatist in England.

Over 97% of the total investments of the Canadian Pacific Railway and all its varied enterprises are in Canada.
